EVOLV EXPEDITE® PRIVACY NOTICE

Last Updated: October 2026

About this Notice

Evolv eXpedite® (the “Product”) is an X-ray bag scanner that works autonomously to detect concealed threats in bags. This Product-Specific Notice is intended to help Evolv customers, their staff, and individuals whose bags are scanned by the Product better understand some of the Product’s privacy-related features and functions. All information processing is carried out in accordance with our Data Processing Addendum (“DPA”) and Privacy Policy, and aligns with applicable data protection laws. If there is a conflict between this Product-Specific Notice and the Privacy Policy, this Notice will prevail. For more information on Evolv’s privacy practices, please visit: www.evolvtechnology.com/privacy.

Information Processing

- The Product is not designed to collect or process any Personal Data; images taken by the Product are limited to the bags scanned.
- All images are deleted from the Product on a 30-day retention schedule, or sooner, depending on Customer configuration. Images may also be collected and used by Evolv in a limited manner to test and improve Product functionality, including its threat detection capabilities.
- Customers may provide details on Customer Users to set up accounts. This Customer User Information may be used to access Evolv applications, including MyEvolv Portal, MyEvolv Mobile App, the Bridge Community, and Evolv Insights(R) (“Evolv Applications”).
- Customers & their visitors may exercise their applicable data protection rights at any time, including without limitation the right to access, correct, delete, or restrict the use of their Personal Data. This includes Customer User Information which, unless requested, will be retained.

Privacy Protective Features and Privacy Compliance

The Product employs the following privacy-protective and compliance-related features:

- The Product by default only collects the personal data set forth above.
- The Product does not know (or seek to discover) the name or any other identification information of any individual.
- Evolv complies with international cross-border data transfer protections, as applicable, as set forth in the DPA.
